Summary

Agile mind, driven by a passion for cutting-edge technology. Throughout my career in banking, I consistently sought opportunities to embrace innovation and stay ahead of the curve. Notable projects include the digital transformation of physical archives and the rebranding of access cards. These skills have been invaluable in my transition to the web development world, where precision and problem-solving are essential. Driven by my passion for coding, I embarked on a learning journey to master React and its ecosystem on the client side (frontend), as well as PHP on the server side (backend). I am currently seeking positions as a Fullstack Web Developer.
